

ABSTRACT

A baggage compartment includes a support structure, a bin, and a guide. The bin defines an at least partially closed volume configured to store baggage. The guide connects the support structure and the bin. The guide is configured to move the bin
5 along a first portion of a path linearly and a second portion of the path rotationally.